Dear moderators,

I'd like to share my experience of my courses on this review with you.

I have just visited my English course for the first time. At first I ~~was~~ ^{had been} a little nervous about it, but then I ^{truly} understood that it means no harm to me. My courses were personal with my teacher only with no social pressure ^{or grades} but interesting tasks made specifically for me.

One of the most interesting tasks was translating recorded speak to my teacher immediately. It excited me because I have been feeling like at an actual job on the meeting between two countries and I was supposed to act fast.

Besides, these kinds of lessons also helped me to memorise many of words related to geographical places and ~~the~~ history of my native language.

When the time has come to the end ^{the} teacher asked me to write a letter for the next lesson as some kind of homework ~~to~~ ^{to} criticise it on the next lesson. I am very grateful for having these lessons and would highly

I am very grateful for those lessons and would like to share these courses with other people because they helped me to understand English better and use it ⁱⁿ practice. I really hope I have inspired someone to have them too and be better at English. When I end my education I would like to open my personal courses, too, to help somebody with teaching such a language like English.
