Characters larger than life.

In any book, cartoon or film we all love to see the heroes defeat the villains, save the world, win the girl and live happily ever after. However, just between you and me: don't we feel a little bit sorry for the villains as well?

Saruman, from The Lord of the Rings, is an all-time favourite villain, the type of villain I like. He is a tall wizard with a long white beard and cold dark eyes. He wears a long white robe and carries a magic staff. Once he was a good wizard but the power of a magic ring has made him evil and greedy and now he wants to rule the world. Only Frodo the small ring bearer can stop him.

Frodo Baggins a Hobbit is small, brave and honest, with bright eyes, curly brown hair and very large hairy feet. His mission is to take the magic ring to Mordor where it will be destroyed. He travels with some friends and together they have to face many dangers. Gandalf a wise wizard protects them and shows them the way.

Another of my favourite heroes is Peter Pan, a mischievous, daring boy with pointed ears who can fly and never grows older, Peter and his friends, the Lost Boys, have a dangerous enemy called Captain Hook.

With his black moustache, cruel laugh and a sharp metal hook instead of a hand, the cunning Captain Hook is a perfect villain. He always wears a broad-brimmed hat and fine clothes. He lives with a band of pirates on his ship, the Jolly Roger, making plans to kidnap the Lost Boys and capture the boy he hates.

Not all villains are men. The Wicked Queen in Snow White is one of the most cold-hearted villains ever. Beautiful but vain, the queen asks her mirror every day. 'Mirror, mirror on the wall, who is the fairest of them all?' The answer always pleases her until one day the mirror replies that kind and caring Snow White is even prettier than her. The jealous queen is so angry that she dresses up as an old woman and gives Snow White a poisoned apple.

Whether heroes or villains, these are the characters I admire the most. I love to watch the heroes fight the villains and eventually see good win over evil. I also can't help feeling for the villains and their weaknesses; I just love to hate them! These stories are timeless and the characters are definitely larger than life.

One of a kind

My granny taught for many years and she was always telling us stories about students. One of her 46 (marvel) stories was about a little girl named Liza. She was an 47..... (intelligence) girl, but she was very lazy. She always come to class 48 (tidy) dressed. Liza used to try get out of work of any kind. One day my granny gave all the students a written task to complete. The title of the task had to be “The Greatest Match ever”.

The class was very quiet as the children 49 (silent) did their work. My granny was their 50 (favour) teacher and they wanted to do their best for her. After some time, my granny told the students that the time was up. They put down their pens and my granny asked them to read the story. It was Liza’s turn. Imagine the 51..... (surprise) look on my granny’s face when Liza stoop up and read out “Rain, no game” and then she sat down.
