My opinion is different. I definitely think government can't solve environ mental problem on its own, but individuals also can't makebensed oring it I suppose, every person should gather in one big group and do it together. For example, MrBeast-Famous Youtuber, Lounded Team Trees. Team Trees is an organization, that plants one tree for every donated dollar, so every body can help. It has already planted about 10 million trees, which is giant aid for Earth.

On the other hand, almost every government of European Union spends enourmons amount of money on development of ecology, but that doesn't make a difference. The eoal and gas are used For ages, although they hurt environment.

Besides ; lots of activists like Green Toumberg can only talk about this problem but they don't manage doing something useful. So, neither government, nor individuals don't solve this problem. By the way, I guess, we should unite to save our Planes.
