Reading

Task 1

Match the headings 1–8 with the texts A–G. Write down the answers in the table below. Use each letter once only. There is one extra heading.

1. Travel memories
2. Animal lover magazine
3. Travel to stars
4. Star dreams
5. Popular hobby
6. Family magazine
7. People and nature
8. Animals in danger

- 1 A. Most people who spend a holiday travelling take a camera with them and photograph anything that interests them – sights of a city, views of mountains, lakes, waterfalls, men and women, children, ruins of ancient buildings, and even birds and animals. Later looking through their albums they will remember the happy time they have had, the islands, countries and cities they have seen.
- 4 B. Of course, different people dream of different things. Someone wishes a calm and quiet life; others imagine their life as a never-ending adventure. The majority dream of something concrete: a villa in some warm place, an account in a Swiss bank, a splendid car... It's interesting to know what the dreams of people who already have all this are. Celebrities, as we know, never hide their unusual hobbies, and often shock us with their extravagant behaviour.
- 6 C. It is Junior Baseball Magazine's mission to provide information that enhances the youth baseball experience for the entire family. The player improves his skills and is more successful. The family enjoys the activity more and shares this precious time in their life. Junior Baseball emphasizes good sportsmanship, safety, physical fitness and wholesome family values.
- 8 D. The seas are in danger. They are filled with poison like industrial, nuclear and chemical waste. The Mediterranean Sea is already nearly dead; the North Sea is following it. The Aral Sea is on the brink of extinction. If nothing is done about it, one day nothing will be able to live in the seas. Every ten minutes one species of animal, plant or insect dies out forever.
- 5 E. Lots of people all over the world enjoy collecting stamps. Stamps are like little pictures. Very often they show the flowers or the trees which grow in this or that country, or they can show different kinds of transport of the country. Stamps may also have portraits of famous people on them. Some stamps show art work from the history of the country.
- 2 F. "Friend" is the title of my favourite magazine. It consists of 70 pages, with lots of colourful and bright pictures and provides interesting and useful information for people who love animals. The magazine includes numerous articles devoted to various topics connected with domestic animals, ways to take care of them, pet food, animal health and many other topics crucial for any animal lover.
- 7 G. People are beginning to realize that environmental problems are not just somebody else's. Many people join and support various international organizations and green parties. What could be more important than human life? Polluted air, poisoned water, wastelands, noise, smoke – all these influence not only nature but people as well. Everything should be done to improve ecological conditions on our planet.

Task 1

Read the text. Complete the gaps with the words given below

A Storyteller

In my early 20s, after a year and a half in England, and four months in France, I returned to the United States and got a job at a camp in northern Virginia. My 1 2 that summer was Dan from Mississippi, and I am from Rhode Island. We worked together with a group of boys from 12 to 14 years old. I've always been a bit untidy, but Dan was 2 2 and clean, even after a night in the woods with our campers. We could not have been more different, but we got on because we shared the same sense of humor.

At the end of the summer, a few of us went to 3 1 a cave in West Virginia and got stuck in the cave for the night. It wasn't as dramatic as it sounds. The park rangers had told us to stay there if anything happened. They knew where we were going, and when we should have been back. Dan hurt his right foot badly. So we had to 4 2 the night in the cave. Food and water were not a problem, but we turned off our lights to save power. In the distance, we could hear the sound of running water.

To 5 3 4 the time, we told stories. That night in the cave we moved from one family story to another. As the night wore on, I remembered more and more. I was not alone—the cave, the blue light and the flowing water released stories and memories that we had never revealed to anyone. It was as if a river of stories had started flowing in each of us.

When the rangers came the next morning, we didn't want to 6 2. 'Can't we just tell a few more stories?' In the cave, that night, I became a storyteller.

Writing 2

Some people believe that it would be better if everyone on our planet spoke the same language. Even though I acknowledge it would make our life easier, I still disagree with this statement.

Having the whole planet speaking the same language would certainly have countless benefits. One of them is travelling without a language barrier. Nowadays, you could probably be comfortable in most countries only knowing English. But I think, to show respect, you need to learn at least some basics of the language spoken in the country you're going to visit.

Considering all advantages of having one language on our planet, my opinion remains the same. Language shapes society. It's part of the culture, therefore, it influences art, music, literature etc. Research has shown that the language a person speaks has an impact on the way they think <sup>and</sup> process information, ~~behave~~ it. So, if everyone spoke the same language, the world would probably have never seen most of the greatest paintings, music pieces or literature's masterpieces.

To conclude, I believe it is crucial to try our best to prevent languages from disappearing. Sadly, it's a common situation when there is just no native speakers left. That's why we should promote language learning to save the world's culture.
